

Hold Hearing on Property Values In Town of Olive

Certiorari Proceedings Brought by New York City to Review Assessment of City Property in Town of Olive Heard Wednesday Before Referee Alvin E. Mambert of Troy—Values Placed on Olive Property.

The first hearing held before Referee Alvin E. Mambert of Troy in the certiorari proceeding brought by the city of New York to review the assessment of city property in the town of Olive for the year 1929 was held Wednesday at the court house here. A large amount of testimony was taken relative to the assessed valuation of property in the town for the year 1929 and expert testimony was given as to the actual or market value of the property. The city in the 1929 case, like in the 1930 case which was taken up a few days ago is attempting to show that other property in the town is assessed at much less than the full value. It is the contention of the city that while other property in the town is assessed at about 20 per cent of its fair market value the Ashokan reservoir property of the city of New York has been assessed at its full or replacement value.

Snead Testifies
In the 1929 case much of the property testified to in the 1930 proceeding was again used to show the relative assessment valuation and fair market value. In most cases the value sworn to was about the same as in the 1930 proceeding. James E. Snead, Kingston real estate agent, was the first expert witness called as to real estate values. After being qualified as to his knowledge of real estate he testified as to values in relation to the assessments placed. His general contention as shown by his testimony was that properties in the town of Olive in 1929 were assessed at about 20 to 25 per cent of their market value.

As in the proceeding had a few days ago in the 1930 case, both the city of New York and the respondent, the town of Olive stipulated to select 45 parcels each, exclusive of the property of the city of New York and show market values and assessed valuation on those parcels. It was also agreed to limit the evidence to that of three real estate experts as to real estate values.

Maps Admitted.
Mr. Quinn, division engineer for the city of New York in charge of city real estate, was called and identified maps of the town of Olive which had been made up from various sources. The map was admitted as a general map of the town, but it was not made from an actual survey or counsel for the town of Olive would not admit its accuracy as to details of property lines or exact boundaries.

James E. Snead was called and qualified as an expert on real estate values. He enumerated a long list of properties which he had sold, showing that he was familiar with real estate values in this locality. Among the properties which he testified to were a number which were described in detail in the 1930 proceeding. Except for a slight difference in assessed valuation or fair market value the descriptions were identical.

The following properties were described and valuations given as well as the 1929 assessed valuation:
Charles Green, Shokan. 21 acres of general farm, a modern house and feed store. In 1929 the property was assessed for $1,800. Mr. Snead testified in 1929 its value was $7,500.

Gertrude W. Foster property at Boiceville. Assessed for $1,300. Value $7,000.
Jacob Goedtel property at Boiceville. Assessed for $1,300. Value $9,000.

Sam Scudder, West Shokan, described as a summer home with unusual view of the reservoir and surroundings and 10 acres of land. Assessed at $2,000. Value $10,500.
B. F. Winne, West Shokan. Four acres of land, two of which was in lawns and gardens beautifully landscaped. House with modern improvements. Swimming pool. House fed by water supply operating by gravity from spring. Garage, etc. Assessed at $1,300. Value $11,000.

Elva H. Bogert, Ashokan. This was described as a 249 acre farm on the mountain adjoining the Picaira estate. About 75 acres cleared. 20 story farm house with living room 30 by 35 feet with fireplace. On the ground floor are in addition kitchen, dining room and a bed room while on the second floor are five bedrooms. There are no improvements, barns and outbuildings. The property adjoins the Picaira estate, which was described as a tract of several thousand acres with a mansion overlooking the Ashokan and also the Woodstock valley. Assessed at $2,700. Mr. Snead placed a valuation on the Bogert property of $16,000.

R. W. Longyear bungalow overlooking the reservoir. Assessed at $500. Value $4,500.
Jacob V. Merrihew farm at Tonawanda, a portion of which was taken by New York for the aqueduct. Mr.

Continue To Study Reynolds Suicide

Winston-Salem, N. C., July 7 (AP).—Despite the fact that Coroner W. N. Dalton closed his investigation of the death of Smith Reynolds with a suicide verdict, Sheriff Transou Scott continued to probe the tragedy today while friends and attorneys sought to ascertain the young millionaire's financial situation.

Meanwhile, the wife of the 20-year-old heir to the R. J. Reynolds tobacco millions was prostrated, as attorneys sought to determine her relation to her husband's estate. The former Libby Holman, of Broadway Revue fame, was at first reported not sharing in young Reynolds' inheritance, but only in his personal property, the value of which was not known.

The will of the late tobacco manufacturer, who died in 1918, was said to have provided only for income for his children, and his wife, who died later, was believed to have left a similar will. Under this plan the vast estate, sometimes estimated at $100,000,000 now, although valued at only about $10,000,000 when R. J. Reynolds died, was not to be divided until his children were 25 years old.

Provisions for income for their children was made, but not for their wives or husbands, attorneys said after a cursory examination yesterday which was expected to be followed today by a more detailed study of the will of R. J. Reynolds, Mrs. Reynolds and Smith Reynolds.

Norma Talmadge Denies Divorce

Nogales, Ariz., July 7 (AP).—Reiterations and denials today cloaked the plans, if any, of Norma Talmadge to get a Mexican divorce from Joseph Schenck, motion picture producer.

Francisco D. Aguilar, Mexican attorney and former chief justice of the state of Sonora, was the authority for the statement that the divorce action for the former movie star will be filed in Nogales, Sonora, across the border from here. In Chicago, Mrs. Talmadge declared Aguilar's announcement was "absolutely untrue."

From Hollywood came word from Schenck that he knows "absolutely nothing" about it. However, Aguilar reiterated that his associate, Vincent Riccardi, of Tucson, Ariz., had been employed by Miss Talmadge.

Miss Talmadge and Schenck have been separated several years. Recently, it was reported the actress would go to Paris to seek a divorce but she denied this.

Said Mrs. Carter Wrote Bad Letters

Mrs. Minnie I. Carter, 42, of 4 Tietjen avenue, was arrested on Wednesday by Officer Boss of the Kingston police department on a warrant sworn out by Postal Inspector George D. Godshalk, charging Mrs. Carter with being the author of a number of nasty letters that have been passing through the mails recently. She was turned over to the district attorney's office and will be committed to the state hospital at Middletown.

The police department have a number of letters signed with the name and address of Mrs. Carter. None of the letters sent through the mails were written anonymously but all are signed with Mrs. Carter's name and address. The letters the police have were written to city officials and are of a rambling nature with here and there an obscene word written.

Brewers Want Display.
London, July 7 (AP).—British brewers, anticipating the possibility of a change in the American prohibition laws, are seeking permission to display their wares at the Chicago world's fair. It was learned today that their representatives have approached Lieutenant Commander Langworthy, representative of the Fair in London. No action has been taken.

Cermak Must Rest.
Chicago, July 7 (AP).—A rest cure was ordered for Mayor Anton J. Cermak. Against his will he was taken to a hospital last night to recuperate from the strain under which he recently worked in attempting to raise money for unpaid city employees and in playing host to the national conventions of the Republicans and Democrats.

Smith Will Support Democratic Party And Gov. Roosevelt

Alfred E. Smith Will Not Head Third Party—His Statement Received With Pleasure by Democrats—Democrats Answer Criticism.

New York, July 7 (AP).—Alfred E. Smith sought "peace and quiet" today after turning down suggestions that he head a third party. He declared in a statement yesterday that he would support "the Democratic party." Although he did not mention Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt in the statement, he added in answer to questions:

"When I say I will support the party, that means that I will support the candidates, the platform and the party."
He said he was going to an unnamed place for a rest. Asked if he would take the stump for the Democratic ticket, he said:

"I am not going to talk about any plans, because I have nothing to do with plans."
Washington, July 7 (AP).—Expressions of pleasure without even a note of surprise continued today in Democratic discussions of Alfred E. Smith's announcement that he will support the party ticket. Criticism of the reforestation program advanced by their presidential candidate was met with the statement that it is quite all right.

Mills Opens Drive.
Meanwhile, the only formal emanation from the newly-opened Republican campaign headquarters in Chicago was an announcement by Everett Sanders, national committee chairman, that Secretary Ogden L. Mills of the treasury would begin his party's drive in a speech at Boston on Monday.

Vice President Curtis let it be known at Washington that he would be ready to stump the country again this year if the G. O. P. councils wanted him to.

Little public attention was given by Democrats to Smith's belief that "it is not practical, in our country to start a third party at this time" although there were numerous private talks of what that might mean in the future.

For many, including Speaker John Garner, Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt's ticket-mate, there came expressions of gratification. Garner's two-sentence statement just about summarized the general sentiment among Democrats.

"When anybody says they are going to support the ticket I am happy to know it," he said. "I have felt all the time that Governor Smith would support the ticket."

But stronger words were applied by Representative Jones, Texas Democrat who heads the House agriculture committee, to Secretary Hyde's "visionary and chimerical" summary of the Roosevelt reforestation plan.

Scores Hyde's Statement.
The agriculture secretary, close friend to President Hoover, had said reforestation could employ only a negligible number of men since one million of them could plant three billion trees in one day.

"The secretary, as everyone knows, understands more about politics than he does about agriculture," Jones' statement said.
"Farmer Hyde has an apparent idea that reforestation consists of going to a nursery, buying a seedling and planting it. He overlooks entirely the great problems of flood control and soil erosion x x x. If Secretary Hyde did not hold such a high position in our government, his lack of information expressed in such elementary language x x x would be amusing."

One more source—Ovid Butler, executive secretary of the American Forestry Association—suggested in a letter to Secretary Hyde that reforestation might include other things too, such as fire protection, insect eradication, roadside clearing, firebreak construction.

There were another couple of notes of harmony in the Democratic fold. Governor Joseph B. Ely of Massachusetts, who worked for Smith's nomination, approved the latter's announced intention of supporting the party ticket. Newton D. Baker said he would be loyal to Roosevelt.

Our Growing Population
The following births have been reported to the Board of Health: Attorney and Mrs. Arthur B. Ewig of 42 Lonsberry Place, a daughter, Joan Marilyn, at Benedictine Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. John J. Albright of 125 Hunter street, a daughter, Elizabeth Frances, at Kingston Hospital.
Mr. and Mrs. Oda Rich of 37 Liberty street, a daughter, Shirley Louise, at Kingston Hospital.
Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Brooks of 19 Liberty street, a son, Donald Joseph, at Benedictine Hospital.
Mr. and Mrs. Fred Shultis of Bearsville, a son, Richard Burton, at Benedictine Hospital.

La Follette Will Run.
Madison, Wis., July 7 (AP).—Philip La Follette will seek a second term as governor of Wisconsin. The young progressive, brother of Senator Robert M. La Follette, announced his candidacy last night in a statement which assailed conservative Republicans and the national government.

Grosset Drowned.
Hubbards, N. S., July 7 (AP).—Philip Grosset, member of a New York Publishing firm, was drowned last night when a canoe overturned on Lake Lawlor, near here.

Beer War Rages in Chicago Southside

Chicago, July 7 (AP).—The beer war apparently is raging again along Chicago's Southside gangland front. James "Red" McGee, a former policeman and Vernie Larkin, reputed henchman of Edward "Spike" O'Donnell, were the latest victims.

Two gunmen last night invaded the Del Rio roadhouse, operated by McGee, and killed McGee and Larkin, known as "The Goat," with shotguns. A third man, George Vanderkolk, a waiter, was seriously wounded. The killers escaped in an automobile.

Judge Clearwater Enjoyed Horse Show

Writes Mrs. A. S. Staples Congratulating Her on Success—Recalls Time When He Was Judge of a Bar Harbor Horse Show.

That Judge A. T. Clearwater evidently enjoyed the horse show held recently at Richmond Park is shown by the following letter that has recently been received by Mrs. Alva S. Staples of Highland avenue. The judge writes:

"When the world and I were much younger, I owned, rode and drove horses. Therefore, the horse show given by the committee of which you are the distinguished chairman, for a most laudable purpose, to me was a great pleasure and as possibly I am the only survivor of that group of men who in that almost forgotten age took pardonable pride in maintaining the standing and fame of Ulster as a county where fine horses were bred, owned and trained, I would regard myself as remiss indeed did not I convey to you and your assistants, not only my own thanks, but that of the community for the exhibition of remarkable horses and horsemanship, your committee gave us on Saturday."

"It is a long time since such an array of horses has been seen in Kingston, and a longer time since horses so impartially and fairly were judged by such competent and fair-minded gentlemen as passed upon the merits of those presented for our entertainment."

"I could not but recall the remark of one of the greatest horsemen of the country, with whom years ago I served as a judge at a great Bar Harbor horse show. He said: 'It takes as high a character and as broad a mind to be a good judge at a horse show as it does to be a judge of an important court.'"

"None but those who have had a similar experience have any comprehension of the care and judgment displayed in the selection of the animals and the discretion and skill manifested by those who rode and drove them."

"That this brilliant success may be a prelude to many equally successful for beneficent purposes is the wish of your

Favorable Balance Of Trade Maintained

Washington, July 7 (AP).—The United States continues to maintain a favorable balance of trade, it being $20,017,244 during May.

This was shown today in a commerce department announcement of total export and import values.

May exports totaled $132,291,721 and imports were $112,274,477. For the five months ending with May exports were $726,852,771 compared with $1,128,839,045 for the same period in 1931 and imports were $636,528,495 compared with $923,695,701.

Canada continued the best customer of the United States taking $24,180,592 of American goods as compared to $41,735,053 in May, 1931, while the United States purchased $17,148,022 worth of goods, more than was bought from any other nation as compared with $24,045,089 in May, 1931.

The United Kingdom took $23,126,611 worth of goods compared with $34,264,234 in May, 1931, and sold to United States firms $6,849,115 compared with $12,355,599.

Approve Fund For Bonus Marchers

Washington, July 7 (AP).—A $100,000 fund recommended by President Hoover to provide homeward transportation for thousands of bonus marchers encamped here, was approved today by the House appropriations committee.

Itanez Returns.
Santiago, Chile, July 7 (AP).—Former President Carlos Itanez, once called dictator of Chile, said today after his return from exile in Argentina, he had not returned to seek any office and urged Chileans to cooperate to the fullest extent with the Socialist government of Carlos Davila.

Earthquake Recorded.
Washington, July 7 (AP).—A severe earthquake, beginning at about 11:30 a. m. E. S. T., was reported today by director John S. O'Connor of the Georgetown University Seismological Observatory. Due to continuing shocks, the distance or direction of the disturbance could not be ascertained immediately.

Republican Leaders Meet Friday to Plan Coming State Ticket

Predictions See McGinnies, Fearon or Wadsworth as Republican Candidate for Governor—All Three Are Well Known Men.

Albany, N. Y., July 7 (AP).—Republican state leaders have been called to meet here tomorrow to consider the state ticket, and if Capitol Hill knows its politics, the man who will be picked for the governorship will be named either McGinnies, Fearon or Wadsworth.

Speaker Joseph A. McGinnies, of the Assembly, Senator George R. Fearon, with a record as a highly capable and fighting legislative leader to tend to the appeal of his name, and former United States Senator James W. Wadsworth, a leader of the extreme wets, are mentioned most often on Capitol Hill when Republican gubernatorial possibilities are discussed.

Within the last week Col. William J. Donovan, World War hero widely known throughout the state, and a former deputy attorney general, has been pushed forward by friends as a candidate. Political observers here rate him as a "dark horse" candidate. They think he would have vote-getting appeal.

The candidacy of "Joe" McGinnies was launched last winter during the legislative session. The dinner in his honor was attended by party leaders from all parts of the state. He is personally popular with leaders generally.

It is not certain that Senator Fearon would accept the nomination at this time. His voice is a powerful one in the councils of his party, and there are rumors that he would rather run for the United States Senate than for governor.

Former Senator Wadsworth has not been an "inner councillor" since the Hoover administration has been in power. When he was retired from the Senate by a third party drive by the state's dries, the state Republican party was the dry party.

Wadsworth, extreme wet, was out of step. In the last gubernatorial campaign the party turned wet, and now with the Republican leaders apparently committed to a repeal platform for the state campaign, Wadsworth, who had a great personal following when in office, would be available again.

GOVERNOR ASKS BUSINESS TO AID IN REDUCING COSTS

Albany, N. Y., July 7 (AP).—Governor Roosevelt has invited leaders of business and agriculture in New York state to tackle with him the problem of how to reduce further the costs of state government.

At two conferences the governor will ask his taxpayer-advisors what state governmental services they are willing to do without in the interest of economy.

The first meeting is called for July 19. Invitations went out last night from the executive chamber to George W. Wickersham, chairman of the state economic council, a private organization, and to heads of other business, real estate, taxpayer and farmer associations.

The governor already is planning his budget for the fiscal year 1933-34, hoping to further curtail the budget figure which in recent years has run over $300,000,000.

KIDNAPED YOUTH RELEASED BY CAPTORS

St. Paul, July 7 (AP).—Tired and unshaven, but unharmed, Haskell Bohn, St. Paul youth, was back home today, with a story of having been held captive by several men for nearly a week.

Whether any money had been paid for his release, as demanded in a note left at the home last Thursday when Bohn was seized by two men and thrown into an automobile, was not revealed. The writers had asked $35,000.

Bohn walked into a farm house at Medicine Lake, near Minneapolis, late last night, and said his captors had just freed him.

After young Bohn's return, police revealed that three men who allegedly attempted to extort $10,000 from the elder Bohn, had been arrested Tuesday and they face charges of attempting to perpetrate a hoax.

STATE BOARD OF PAROLE WILL DECIDE MADDEN CASE

Albany, N. Y., July 7 (AP).—Whether Owey Madden, who returned to Sing Sing prison yesterday, serves out the three years, four months and four days remaining on his prison term will be decided eventually by the state board of parole.

Dr. Joseph W. Moore of the parole board said today that Madden might appear before the parole board and ask to be released. The next meeting of the board will be held at Sing Sing, August 15. After Madden presents his application for parole it will be up to the board to decide.

Treasury Receipts.
Washington, July 7 (AP).—Treasury receipts for July 5 were $6,164,693.40; expenditures $72,552,635.58; balance $234,926,822.65. Customs duties for five days of July were $2,345,264.18.

Lutheran Picnic July 13

Prohibition Party Holding Convention

Indianapolis, July 7 (AP).—Without the name of Senator William E. Borah before them, but hoping they will be drafted as a dry third party candidate for the Presidency, delegates to the prohibition party's national convention today turned to old party workers for their nominee.

With their convention apparently to nominate the Idaho statesman, leaders last night talked with him by telephone and then issued the following statement:

"The senator greatly appreciated the compliment which the convention confers upon him in its willingness to nominate him for the Presidency. He advises, however, that the convention do not make such nomination as such a call should come, if at all, from a great united uprising of the people to be expressed at a subsequent convention representing the united moral forces of the nation."

Borah's withdrawal left a group of long-time prohibition party workers in nomination for the candidacy. They were Clinton N. Howard of Rochester, N. Y.; convention keynote; National Chairman D. Leigh Colvin; Frank S. Regan of Rockford, Ill.; and Harley W. Kidder of Barre, Vt. William F. Varney, the 1928 nominee, was presented but withdrew in favor of Regan.

Congress Goes Ahead With Relief Plans

Washington, July 7 (AP).—An adamant Republican president today watched Congress prepare to proceed with the amended relief program favored by an equally unyielding Democratic vice presidential nominee.

As Senate and House conferees submitted their agreement on the $2,122,000,000 measure—according to President Hoover's views on all points save one—there was no indication from Speaker Garner that he would give way. In fact, Garner lined up House Democrats behind his plan which conferees once more had stamped "approved."

The open break between White House and speaker came yesterday after two conferences failed to bring agreement. Garner went back to Capitol Hill with others who had sat in the meetings and took the House floor to insist that the reconstruction finance corporation be allowed to make loans to any individual with security.

Petition Urges Action on Beer

Washington, July 7 (AP).—A petition to Speaker Garner urging immediate action on beer-for-revenue legislation was circulated today among Republican anti-prohibitionists.

The petition was agreed upon yesterday at a meeting of the Republican wet bloc.

Its drafting was completed today by Representative LaGuardia of New York and it immediately was passed from hand to hand by the Republican groups.

There was no plan to seek Democratic signatures.

LaGuardia predicted 60 signatures would be obtained from the Republican side.

GOVERNOR WILL NOT USE POSITION IN BEHALF OF BEER

Albany, N. Y., July 7 (AP).—Governor Roosevelt will not use his position as the Democratic presidential nominee in behalf of beer bills or any other legislation now before Congress.

It became known today, from sources close to the governor, that he feels that an effort on his part for or against any congressional proposal would be usurpation of power not possessed by the party's presidential choice.

Since the Chicago convention wrote his name at the top of the Democratic ticket, there have been demands that Roosevelt urge enactment of a beer bill. The proponents found justification for urging him to take a hand in the party's prohibition plank. That plank declared for immediate repeal of the Volstead Act.

The governor also believes that his time must be given to the executive office, and that even should he desire to take a hand in the congressional situation he could not do so because of the executive office demands.

Prohibition Party Holding Convention

Indianapolis, July 7 (AP).—Without the name of Senator William E. Borah before them, but hoping they will be drafted as a dry third party candidate for the Presidency, delegates to the prohibition party's national convention today turned to old party workers for their nominee.

With their convention apparently to nominate the Idaho statesman, leaders last night talked with him by telephone and then issued the following statement:

"The senator greatly appreciated the compliment which the convention confers upon him in its willingness to nominate him for the Presidency. He advises, however, that the convention do not make such nomination as such a call should come, if at all, from a great united uprising of the people to be expressed at a subsequent convention representing the united moral forces of the nation."

Borah's withdrawal left a group of long-time prohibition party workers in nomination for the candidacy. They were Clinton N. Howard of Rochester, N. Y.; convention keynote; National Chairman D. Leigh Colvin; Frank S. Regan of Rockford, Ill.; and Harley W. Kidder of Barre, Vt. William F. Varney, the 1928 nominee, was presented but withdrew in favor of Regan.

They had no fuel depot at Moscow because the quality obtainable there was not satisfactory. There is, however, a supply awaiting them at Omsk.

Both fliers have had some experience in navigation and, since they were over their projected course very carefully before leaving New York, it seemed likely that if there were no difficulties of weather or trouble with the plane they would be able to find their way to Omsk handsly.

2,350 Mile Jump to Omsk

Others who have flown this course followed the Trans-Siberian Railway from Moscow to Omsk, a distance of 1,600 miles. This added to the 350 miles from Berlin to Moscow would give them a 2,350 mile jump.

At 140 miles an hour, approximately the speed which they made from Harbor Grace to Berlin, they would reach Omsk some time in the forenoon today, assuming that they were still in the air.

Communication with Omsk is not of the best and if they should land there, there probably would be some delay in getting word of their arrival to the world.

They filled the tanks at Berlin to their 600-gallon capacity. If they had no trouble and if they held their speed to cruising range, they would have enough fuel to keep them aloft for 25 hours.

They left Berlin at 3:00 p. m., E. S. T., therefore their fuel supply would last until 4:00 p. m. today.

German Air Police Worried
Berlin, July 7 (AP).—German air police at Tempelhof Airfield here were worried this morning when no reports had been received up to 9 a. m. from the round the world fliers, James Mattern and Bennett Griffin, since they took off for Moscow yesterday afternoon.

The only word of them was a belated dispatch from Koenigsberg this morning which said they had crossed the German frontier into Poland at 12:02 a. m. (6:05 p. m. E. S. T. Wednesday). They were sighted over Lake Wyszty, near Hegeligen. Considerable concern was expressed over the fate of the Americans by the police, who said they could not understand why there had been no report of the fliers having been sighted at any point between here and Moscow, or why they had not reached their next goal in 12 hours' time.

The distance was covered by Wiley Post and Harold Gatty, last year's round-the-world team, in a little less than 9 hours. At 9 a. m. today Mattern and Griffin had been gone from here 12 hours.

The newspaper Zwoelf Uhr Blatt said this morning its reports indicated the fliers faced unfavorable weather, with thunder storms and rain storms over Russia.

The sun had already set when they left here at 9 o'clock (3 p. m. E. S. T.) last night and the reports then indicated good weather for the 550 mile hop. Both were in excellent spirits and said they were not a bit tired after their long hop from America.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sick and the world looks black, don't swallow a lot of salts. Natural water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and spry and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. You begin to feel your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul. Bile often breaks out in skin eruptions. Your head aches and you feel drowsy and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, healing, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

But don't get for three pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the same Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Respect a physician. 25c at all stores. © 1931 C. M. Co.

Cottons Are Smartest When Tailored

By CHERRY NICHOLAS

IT'S amazing the way cottons are "carrying on" this season—amazing! No matter what hour of the clock it may be, morning, noon or midnight, yes, midnight, for evening cottons are front-page news just now. It's cottons which are holding the center of the stage.

The sensational debut of piques, lace cotton meshes and such, at the most formal of night events and the enchanting role which embroidered organdies and sheerest of cotton nets are so dramatically playing to nightly audiences are not the only performances of cottons which are causing the world of fashion to sit up and take notice, for sports cottons are staging every whit as interesting a program during the daytime hours.

They're smartest when they're tailored, that is what designers are saying of the stunning cottons which are darting hither and thither o'er tennis court or trailing a lively ball o'er golfers' green or holding a rendezvous with the fashionable set out at the country club. This feeling for the chic simplicity of tailored effects is reflected in the preference which is being expressed among college girls for the shirtwaist frock which has not a frill or a furbelow about it. As summer advances these neat trim little tailored cotton shirtwaist costumes are appearing in increasing numbers. They are making them of pique, of seersucker and the modish cotton meshes. Buttoning them primly up to the neck, too, and making the skirts youthfully slim and straight—just a few little details, perhaps, set in about the hemline or a skirt of fitted gored or maybe just enough pleats let in to give freedom of movement.

Then again if you are keeping tab on the doings of smart cottons you will find your quest taking you to the most unexpected place—into the realm of coats. They are the newest thing out in the way of a summer wrap, are these coats, either three-quarter or full length and made of the swankiest mesh cottons, or cotton tweeds or the diagonal patterned cottons which are so modish just now. And they are making them of wide-wale pique too.

If you are casting about for something stylish to wear that can go sailing, golfing, to the tennis courts or on to the club house porch, here they are in this picture. Each is a sheer durable mesh, washable and simple in line. This particular weave has a sort of honeycomb effect which is very attractive, but if you are getting several sports cottons, and of course you are, you might vary them by making another of your frocks of the very handsome durable diagonals which tailors to perfection and looks every inch strictly up to the moment in chic.

One of the fetching things about the model to the right here pictured is that it has that shirtwaist look which we were talking about a moment ago. Then, too, it proclaims the mode of the widened soft self-fabric belt. You will like the skirt. Stand up and it will fall into the narrow slim silhouette which is the pride of fortunate, slender youth. Sit down and there are just enough pleats in front to make one feel at ease.

The little bellhop jacket to the left couldn't be smarter, buttons, revers, durable mesh and all. Really a wardrobe without a bellhop jacket or two does not qualify as being complete this season.

BLACK REMAINS IN FAVOR WITH MILADY

Those who sit in judgment on the fashions of the world are not the flighty individuals they may seem to be. No matter how many fanciful ruffles and frills they invent, no matter how many brilliant purples and reds they produce, no matter how unsettled in the matter of skirt lengths and waistlines they seem to be, there are always a few old faithfuls among their ideas that are never deserted.

First among these is the all-black dress. Strange as it may seem, while it is the old reliable of every wardrobe, it is many times the smartest dress of the lot.

The summer version of the all-black dress is appearing in Paris in lighter-weight fabrics than usual.

JACKET ENSEMBLE

Ideal for summer wear is this jacket ensemble of soft yellow and beige tones in cool pointed crepe.

FLASHES FROM PARIS

Fringe re-appears on evening frocks.

Drum-shaped bellhop hat is favorite theme with chic Paris milliners.

Leading couturiers stress style importance of cottons.

Capelines of large proportions with shallow crowns top summery frocks.

Chantal sponsors dance frocks of tailored cotton pique.

Mousseline de soie, often called silk organdie, is favored for sheer frocks.

Velvet shoulder capes top printed chiffon frocks.

Street Clothes Have a Simpler Line This Year

Women, this year, set great store by their street clothes. There is the demand for simple, wearable clothes that draw a smart line between the severely tailored line and the softer line that marks the afternoon mode.

Neat suits with dressmaker touches, simple frocks with effective detail and a matching little jacket or capelet, these are the favorites of well-dressed women.

Cotton Scarfs

Head blocked cotton scarfs to wear with cotton sports clothes are a novelty worth pursuing. They are most effective.

Identity a Puzzle No definite conclusion has been reached by historians regarding the identity of the Man With the Iron Mask. He has been supposed to be (1) the duke of Varanais, a natural son of Louis XIV; (2) an elder brother of Louis XIV; (3) a twin brother of Louis XIV; (4) Count Marillat, imprisoned for treachery; (5) a soldier of fortune named Marechiff, and (6) General de Bolande.	Old Bull's Billiard Table The old episode-legendary billiard table which graced the game room of Old Bull's home when the celebrated Norwegian violinist made his home in Madison is in the Old Bull room of the Memorial Union at the University of Wisconsin. The billiard table, says Milwaukee Journal, was given to the university by former Gov. Fred R. Zimmerman during his term of office.	Cats in Forum Puzzling In the forum of Trajan, in Rome, Italy, at times as many as 60 felines may be seen perched on the various columns, and why they stay in the ancient ruins is a puzzle. One observer believes that the Romans, at one time, venerated a cat deity, and the twentieth century tabbies are carrying on the cult.

State Income Tax Nearly Cut in Half

All of Increased Rate Goes to Unemployment Relief Appropriation and Normal Tax Receipts, Which Municipalities Share, as Greatly Reduced—Ulster County Gets $18,000 Less Than Last Year.

Albany, July 7.—Counties and municipalities of this state will receive only $14,369,570.65 as their share of the personal income tax due July 1, 1932, according to an announcement from the office of Thomas M. Lynch, commissioner of taxation and finance, here today. This amount is about $8,140,566 less than the total distributed last year at this time. The drop in revenues was not unexpected and it is unlikely that officials of any of the political subdivisions of the state will be disappointed at the amount of money apportioned.

Collections of the personal income tax money up to June 30 this year totaled $29,500,000. The tax was imposed at increased rates this year, these being two per cent of the first $10,000 of net income, four per cent on the next $40,000 and six per cent on all above $50,000. The old rates were one, two and three per cent respectively. When the law was amended last year it was provided that one-half the increase should go to pay the state's unemployment relief appropriation and the other half go to the state general fund. The municipalities were to get none of the increase. Therefore the counties and cities do not get one-half the grand total collected as in past years, but instead receive about one-quarter. Two more installments of income tax payments are due, but the counties do not share in these.

The distribution is made to the 62 counties and then in turn to the municipalities on the basis of assessed valuation of real property. Counties assessing at rates near true valuations get more in proportion than those units assessing at about 55 cents for each $1,000 of assessed valuation as recorded on the 1931 assessment rolls. Last year it was a trifle more than 63 cents and the year before that $1.38 a thousand.

New York, of course, gets the major share of the apportionment, over $6,300,000. Erie county will receive over a half million dollars, Nassau over $335,000, Westchester approximately $640,000 and Monroe county nearly $300,000. Hamilton county receives the smallest sum, slightly over $4,000.

Commissioner Lynch, in giving out the figures, said, "The story is told by figures. We need to add nothing else. These show unmistakably what has happened to incomes of New York state residents during the past few years. In 1930 we distributed some $39,000,000 to the counties. Last year it was over $18,000,000. The world wide economic depression with its results in the form of unemployment, lessened incomes and business losses took its toll of our income tax. Some comfort can be gained however in the knowledge that the counties assessing at nearly true values will receive more money in proportion than those places where the assessors have not seen fit to bring valuations somewhere near the true level."

The 1924 distribution totaled $7,156,000. During the intervening years the sums distributed have been as follows: $22,196,000 in 1925; $26,873,000 in 1926; approximately $29,000,000 in 1930 and $18,500,000 in 1931.

The apportionment to Ulster county compared with last year is: In 1932, $22,769.62. In 1931, $40,635.22.

PLATTEKILL

Plattekill, July 6.—The Plattekill Grange members have accepted an invitation to attend "neighbors' night" at the Hensdale Grange Monday evening, July 25, when the Stone Ridge Grange members will also be invited. At a recent meeting of the local Grange the members of Mountville and Highland Granges were entertained about 200 members being present. A splendid program of entertainment was provided by the visiting members, as well as the program prepared by the local members.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Everett were among the delegates appointed to represent the Dairyman's League Cooperative Association and the Home Department of the League at Syracuse recently. Mr. Everett is chairman of the latter organization. At a sub-district meeting of the league, which was held in the New Paltz Grange Hall last week, interesting reports were made of the Syracuse convention.

STALE GAS IS FEEBLE... fresh GAS PACKS POWER

YOU KNOW that gasoline evaporates. But have you ever thought what that means? It means that, little by little, the "light ends"—the "easy starting" elements—drift off into thin air.

And as gas gets stale, a chemical change takes place—and hence the longer gas is stored, the weaker it gets. The less power it gives you. And it gets stickier, too. More apt to foul valves and carburetor. More apt to knock on the kila.

The whole petroleum industry has long known these facts. Gulf has long studied the problem—and now announces a system that assures the motorist of getting FRESH, FULL-POWERED gasoline!

First, by giving you the best gasoline that can be made—by so refining this gas that the elements that cause rapid deterioration are eliminated. Which means that Gulf gas stays FRESH longer.

Second, by getting this NEW-MADE gas to you in a hurry.

From refinery to pump, the Gulf distribution system is geared up to high speed. Gulf has carefully placed its many huge refineries in many sections of the country—so that a stream of FRESH gas can easily be kept flowing to every one of the 45,000 Gulf stations.

A tremendous fleet of fast trucks rushes FRESH gas to Gulf pumps every day in the year.

Only FRESH gasoline packs full power. Get all the power you pay for. Get gas that's FRESH-MADE—and that is delivered FRESH. Get Gulf—exclusively. You'll have a livelier motor. A quieter motor. A faster motor.

Bachelors would marry but the thought of getting into hot water gives them cold feet.

She—How did you like the bachelors' party?
He—Not at all.
She—Wasn't the food good?
He—Yes very good. But I sat next to a cross-eyed lady who kept eating from my plate all the time.

Her Sparks from the devil. An inferiority complex is the feeling that sways over a nervous bachelors' party when he gets his card at a night club. What has the anti-bachelors' organization been able to do about the bachelors' party program this year? No matter how short-handed the factories are, you'll always find three men after every political job. If the bride makes a mess of the dinner, she can dump it on a cabbage leaf and call it a salad. Kingston has a clever woman. If she writes a letter on the tenth of the month she dates it the twenty-fifth and then gives it to her husband to mail.

Clara—What are you thinking of?
Rudy—Nothing.
Clara—Oh, do take your mind off yourself.

Timid Young Lady (to aviator)—I wouldn't mind flying provided I could keep one foot on the ground.
The Pilot—Then if you fly with me you'll have to have a mighty long leg.

You can't get a flapper all excited by telling her that cigarettes ruin her complexion. She knows she can easily get another one at the drug store if she ruins the one she has.

Mr. Collins (answering the phone)—Collins speaking.
Voice—Hold the line, please. Miss Cahill is calling.

Voice (after an interval)—Are you still holding the line?
Mr. Collins—Yes.
Voice (not Miss Cahill's)—Well, go hang your shirt on it.

Inspector—Hold on, young lady, what have you to declare?
Sweetie—Oh, Mr. Inspector, I declare you're handsomer than any man I saw during my two months' stay in Europe.

Inspector (blushing)—Er, ah, hurry up, madam, move along and give some one else a chance.

It does not hurt to stick up for your rights although you only get what's left. That's the chance you take.

When a movie couple publicly announce how happy they are, the divorce lawyers know there is new business just around the corner.

First June Bride—Oh, a joint bank account must be nice.
Second June Bride—Yes, it's a lovely arrangement. My husband deposits the money, and I draw it out.

Stray Shots: Far too many men are getting rich by helping other men make fools of themselves. . . . Politicians is to do and say the kindest things in the kindest way. . . . Nothing looks so sick as a flaxseed poultice after it conquers a carbuncle. . . . A man's wife usually has more faith in him than he has in himself. . . . Some men will brag that they are self-made when they really ought to apologize. . . . Our idea of a slow movie is a committee of thirteen setting down to business. . . . In the spring a young man's fancy often turns to love letters he wishes he hadn't written in the winter. . . . So live that the preacher will not have to lie about you at your funeral. . . . SEVENTY-FIVE SCIENTIFIC TESTS PROVE OLD GOLD COOLEST SMOKE

Scientists of Two Leading Universities Check Tests That Prove Old Gold Best

Scientists of two leading Universities have checked the tests described on this page and their findings corroborated in every detail those of the New York Testing Laboratories.

Samples of each lot of cigarettes tested have been sealed in airtight bottles:

1. For scientists who may wish to check the tests.
2. To refer to in later years to see what effect the tests have had in improving other brands up to the Old Gold pure tobacco standard.

To any scientific or technical authority, the signed report of these two scientists will be sent on application to P. Lorillard Company, Inc., 119 West 40th St., New York City.

THE EVIDENCE OF SCIENCE

"This is to certify that in 75 repeated cool tests made of the 4 leading cigarette brands . . . measuring the heat content of each cigarette in B.T.U.s. with the Oxygen Bomb Calorimeter, it was shown that:

- Old Gold averages 112 B.T.U.s. Cooler than Brand X
- Old Gold averages 155 B.T.U.s. Cooler than Brand Y
- Old Gold averages 156 B.T.U.s. Cooler than Brand Z

"To further verify Old Gold's coolness, the temperature (Fahrenheit) of the smoke of each cigarette brand was checked and Old Gold's smoke was found to be definitely cooler than the smoke of the other three brands."

LABORATORY CHECK PLACES O. G. FIRST, EASIEST ON THROAT

"O. G.'s Finer Tobacco and its Freedom from Added Flavorings Make it a Definitely Cooler Cigarette," say Noted Authorities

"Conclusive evidence that Old Gold gives a cooler smoke . . . cooler than any of the three other leading cigarette brands . . . has been obtained through the most accurate heat-testing method known to Science," it has been announced by the New York Testing Laboratories.

"Seventy-five repeated tests of the four big brands confirmed this finding," G. Brinton Jack, Jr., Director of the Laboratories, asserted. Mr. Jack emphatically stated that the tests were initiated by the Laboratories solely as a matter of scientific research, and entirely without the participation of cigarette manufacturers.

"Accurate temperature records made of the smoke of each of the four cigarettes completed the proof that Old Gold is definitely cooler than the other brands," Mr. Jack asserted.

"It is not our province in this report to speculate on the reasons for Old Gold's cooler smoking qualities," Mr. Jack stated. "But we are told that Old Gold is a cigarette of the finest and purest tobacco quality . . . without artificial flavoring. This alone might well account for its coolness and mildness, since low grade tobacco, or tobacco containing oily flavorings, has a tendency to burn into hot and irritating fumes." He continued:

"These tests required eight months to complete. We purchased hundreds of cartons of the four leading brands through regular retail channels, and each brand was represented in each of the 75 tests. We employed the Oxygen Bomb Calorimeter, recognized by scientists throughout the world as the most accurate method of measuring the heat given off in the combustion of any organic substance."

Cub Shortstop Shot. Condition Not Serious

Chicago, July 1. (P.)—Manager Rogers Hornsby and his Chicago Cubs carried on their National League pennant game today without the services of their star young shortstop, Bill Jurgens, while the police investigated the events that caused a pretty brunette to shoot and wound him as well as herself.

Although the woman, Miss Villie Popovich Valli, a divorcee and a former chorus girl, insisted that she intended only to shoot herself, the police were in possession of a letter that cast an attempted slaying and suicide complexion to the case.

The letter, addressed to Miss Valli's brother and written just before she invaded Jurgens' hotel room yesterday and wounded him twice, blamed Kiki Curry, Cub outfielder, and Lew Steadman for breaking up her romance. She advised her brother, Mike Popovich, a Chicago Y. M. C. A. employee, that she planned to kill Jurgens and herself.

Neither the girl nor Jurgens was in a serious condition today. Jurgens suffered two wounds, one bullet entering his right side, grazing a rib and piercing the right shoulder, and the other ripping the flesh around the little finger of his left hand. Miss Valli was shot in the left hand.

Dr. John Davis, Cub physician, who happened to be in the Hotel Carlos lobby when the shooting occurred, said that Jurgens would be able to play baseball within three or four weeks unless complications set in.

Manager Hornsby, shocked by the loss of his young star, has shifted Elwood English from third base to shortstop and placed young Stanley Hack at third base. If that combination doesn't produce results, he may take over the third base post himself until Jurgens' return.

LIVE BUSINESS MEN ADVERTISE IN THE FREEMAN

FASHIONS by ELEANOR GUNN

These Costume Details Are Sure to Mesh

Fashion Is Kind to the City-Bound Woman, Giving Dark Sheers

New York. The joy of being able to wear sheer materials again in dark colors especially. They make an ideal dress for the business woman, and for the sidewalk too. The model pictured has the new square neckline and a sleeve treatment, repeated in the deep-cuffed sleeve, a type of sleeve women often prefer to short ones when in town.

While blues still lead the color procession, there is plenty of color with white or ecru and, bringing up the rear, greens with or without white. Reports from various smart centers tell of green, mainly in favor, special emphasis being, however, on greens for evening.

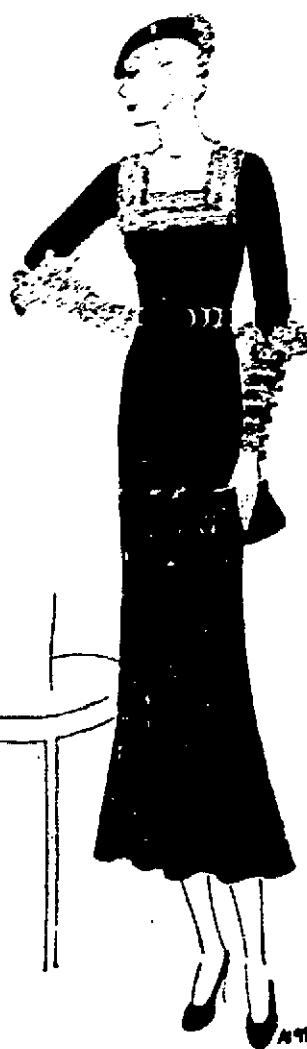

Judging from advance fall collections being shown in wholesale circles, necklines may be expected to contribute much newness and interest in the near future. The rule is that all necklines must be higher than heretofore worn. Sleeves retain their tendency to pull out here or there. For afternoon and evening dresses, there is a definite connection between sleeve fullness and the shoulder treatment.

The sheers that are having such success at the moment are likely to be followed by fabrics of a roughened surface, this tendency being already apparent in such costumes as are not of the transparent, or semi-transparent variety.

Browns, reds, purples and blues are all spoken of with confidence for early fall. The vivid pinks and purples are already in evidence. A shade called rhum is under lively discussion. There are few to vote it down.

To revert to necklines and their trimming, it may be said that there will be such a wide variety from which to choose that every one should be satisfied. Among the outstanding novelties, may be mentioned starched collars and cuffs, and ties that are also stiffly starched.

LACE ON THE SQUARE

A charming frock of sheer navy crepe and white shirred organdie and lace, worn with a hat to match and with blue kid opera pumps.

Moderns and Victorians Have Fringe in Common

Mainbocher revives fringe as a major characteristic of his evening frocks, and with good effect. The fact that Mainbocher's name is closely linked with fashions of a strictly modern quality makes his adoption of fringe—one of the undisputed symbols of Victorian costumes—all the more pointed.

These fringe-trimmed dresses show a technique that brings fringes up to 1932. It is distinctive of the Mainbocher fringes to appear on the corsage, worked in with spiral scarfs that are removable or semi-detached.

A representative group of summer accessories must include mesh gloves—cotton ones, of course, either in pastel or white. Flowers, too, are fashioned of cotton mesh on occasion, and also of organdie. Wide

DID YOU KNOW THAT—

White or partly white hats make up 50 per cent of the headgear at any smart gathering, and they are smarter with a touch of black or navy or brown, than all-white.

Among the hat models frequently seen is Talbot's round-crowned white linen sailor with the shiny bow and with one side of the brim narrower than the other.

It is almost impossible to find a black dress for fall (that is, if it is not one of the many combined with white) without finding red with it. The appearance of these black-with-red dresses in model importers' collections is a confirmation of this fashion idea as reported in the midseason showings, particularly in connection with Mainbocher's clothes.

PAINFUL CORNS GO IN 3 SECONDS

—Dr. Hanes Smith
Painful corns go in 3 seconds—perfect foot comfort at once. This is the money-back guarantee on which 100-1000 the new lotion corns disappear. In 3 seconds your corns or calluses with 100-1000—pain and swelling—gone. And you can lift them off with your fingers. See them dry up, root and all. Painless, easy, and not irritate the skin. Lotion alone doesn't do it. It's the new scientific discovery in 100-1000 that does the work. Go to your druggist and ask for it by name—100-1000. In 3 seconds you will forget all painful corns. Always at Weber's Pharmacy.

Flashes of Life

Sketched in Brief

(By The Associated Press)

Monahan—Mrs. Edward A. Felts had a falling out with her husband, an army sergeant, but the drop (a 60-foot one) restored her regard for him. Quarrelling, she blacked one of his eyes. Then she swung at the other, missed and toppled over a cliff. When police hauled her up, only slightly hurt, she kissed the sergeant.

Rosedale, Pa.—Milton and Alfred Newhardt, fishermen, made a triple catch with a triple hook. Hauling in a 22-inch pickerel, both lunged to grab it. One hook caught Milton's hand and another pierced Alfred. A doctor cut out the hooks.

Hollywood—Dr. Henry J. Gordon, astrologist, sees a wet future for the U. S. A. Presenting the nation's horoscope to the national astrological convention he predicted light wines and beer by 1935.

Bikely, Ga.—Eight thousand folks, celebrating bumper crops and the "end of depression," enjoyed a barbecue, ball game, balloon ascension and greased pig race. John Underwood, master of ceremonies, rode a pony shouting "the depression is over in Early county and happy days are here again."

Philadelphia—Max Bohnacker told a judge that his wife, who said she was an Austrian countess, hung not only dishes and bottles but a chicken. Perhaps the chicken was the last straw. Anyway, Bohnacker won a divorce.

Rouyn, Que.—A woodchuck started the latest "gold rush" in this district. Walking his claim in Bousquet township, D. Clement saw a woodchuck disappear. Investigating, he found the burrowing had revealed some schistose quartz carrying considerable free gold.

Frederickton, N. B.—Hit by Lloyd Hoben's automobile, a deer jumped wildly into the air and landed in Hoben's lap. The car went off the road and overturned. Hoben escaped injury, but the deer was killed.

TABASCO.

Tabasco, July 6.—Louis Rodberg, who is employed by Miss Grace Roberts at Highland, spent the week-end here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Morris Rodberg.

Mr. and Mrs. Basil Decker of Poughkeepsie arrived here on Saturday to spend the holidays with Mr. and Mrs. Lorenzo Decker, the former's parents.

Clara Margaret Young and friend, Lester Wynkoop, accompanied the latter's brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Wynkoop, Jr., on a motor trip to Scranton, Penna., on Sunday.

Recent callers on the home of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Wynkoop, Sr., were Mr. and Mrs. John Plecky of Kingston, Martha Wells of Walden and Mr. and Mrs. Basil Decker of Poughkeepsie.

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Elston of Grahamsville and Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Miller and family were holiday guests of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Gray.

Isaac Van Vleet and Nial Van Wagener spent Sunday enjoying their favorite sport, fishing at the Shokan dam.

Junior Decker, who has been vacationing with relatives in Kingston and New Paltz, returned home on Sunday.

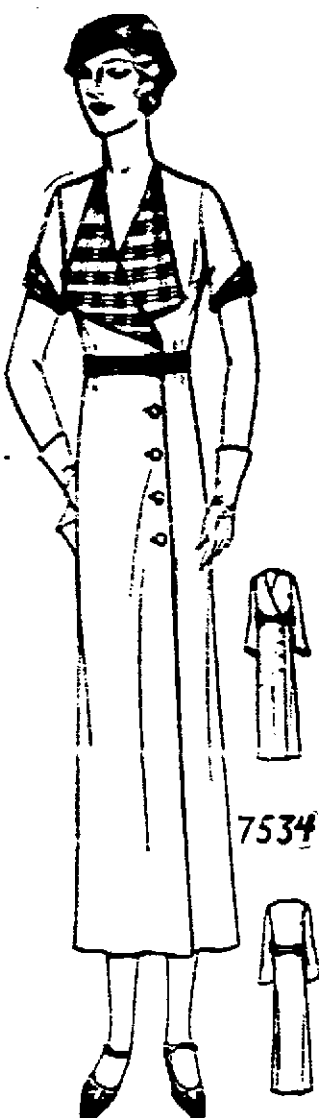

Mr. and Mrs. Vern Keator and son, Stanley, were entertained Saturday evening in the home of Mrs. Keator's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lorenzo Decker.

Ralph Palen of Kingston has been enjoying his vacation with relatives in this place and at the same time participating in his favorite sport, fishing.

Mrs. Clifton Palen and lady friend were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Vaughn Decker on Sunday.

Sheep growers of 50 Tennessee counties disposed of their wool through a pool this year.

OUR DAILY PATTERNS.

A Popular Coat Dress Style.

7534. A favorite style is ever a Coat Dress style. This one in particular is smart and becoming to slender and mature figures. Broad revers and a choice of two styles of sleeve make the model more desirable. One may have the ¾ length sleeve or the short sleeve with small upturned cuffs. The revers may be omitted as pictured in a small view. Blue sheer woolen was used for this style with blue and white plaid taffeta for trimming. Black satin is also suggested with trimming of white mesh woolen or crepe. Linen, shantung and checked gingham, the latter in brown and white, with trimming of white would also be in good taste.

Designed in 5 sizes: 34, 36, 38, 40 and 42 inches bust measure.

Size 38 if made as in the large view will require 4 ¾ yards of one material and ¾ yard of contrasting material 35 inches wide. If made with ¾ length sleeves and without revers it will require 4 ¾ yards of 35 inch material. With short sleeves and in monotone size 38 will require 4 ¾ yards. Revers, cuffs and belt in contrast require ¾ yard 35 inches wide. The width of the dress at the lower edge is 1 ¾ yard.

A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 12c in coin or stamps by the Pattern Department, The Freeman, Kingston, N. Y. Be sure to state the size wanted.

Hiding Behind Jellyfish
The young of a small bluish silver fish, known in Maine as the dollar-fish, swim together in the company of large jelly-fishes, seeking shelter and protection beneath the disks of the latter. When mature the dollar-fish is from 8 to 10 inches long. It is oval in shape and has a blunt snout and a small mouth.

Dumping Hides in The Dumps of City

Complaint has been made to the health board that some one is using the city dumps at Block Park and also the quarry hole dump in Poughkeepsie to dispose of old hides and other refuse, which causes a stench in the neighborhood. This is a violation of the health law and the one found guilty of this crime will be dealt with to the full extent of the health law say authorities.

INSTALLATION AND SOCIAL AT SHOKAN I. O. O. F. LODGE

West Shokan, July 7.—Saturday evening, July 2, was the scene of a largely attended session of Shokan I. O. O. F. Lodge, No. 151. The occasion was the semi-annual installation of the elective and appointive officers by District Deputy J. Henry Hill and staff of William H. Raymond, Lodge of Saugerties. There were visiting delegations present of prominent members representing several lodges about Ulster District, also Past District Deputy Saxon of New York City. There was a brother present who perhaps holds a national record for lodge attendance. John H. Burger of Aretas Lodge, No. 172, of Kingston, who in his membership of 29 years has missed but three sessions of his lodge. On two of these occasions Mr. Burger was attending Grand Lodge as a representative of Aretas Lodge and the third while attending a fireman's convention in New York. All present agreed that his record stands unparalleled in Ulster county at least.

The group of elective and appointive officers to carry on the affairs of Shokan Lodge for the balance of 1932 are:

Noble Grand, Clifford B. Donohoe; Vice Grand, J. Gaylord Ayres; Right Supporter Noble Grand, P. G. Lester; B. Davis; Left Supporter, Noble Grand, Herman Quick; Conductor, P. G. Oscar Dudley; Right Supporter Vice Grand, James Gordon; Left Supporter Vice Grand, Raymond Bolce; Right Seane Supporter, P. G. Ezra Silkworth; Left Seane Supporter, Le Grand Shultis; Inside Guardian, William Feltman; Outside Guardian, P. G. William Shultis; Chaplain, Past District Deputy, Arthur E. Trowbridge.

The installing work of Deputy Hill and the members of his staff was accomplished with precision and dignity.

At the close of the installing ceremony the gavel was handed over to the new presiding officer, Clifford B. Donohoe, who in well chosen words filled with emotion modestly expressed his keen gratification in having been elevated to the honored position of trust bestowed by his fellow members. He asked the fully cognate of the officers and members that he might be enabled to carry on the work with the success accorded his predecessor. Just as North, now the pastor, past grand, in behalf of Shokan Lodge, thanked Brother Hill and his wonderful staff and extended to all the visiting members a most cordial welcome.

Next followed fitting remarks from the new vice grand, J. Gaylord Ayres, who stated that he too felt keenly the honors bestowed and pledged his best efforts toward the welfare of the lodge. He was reminded that just eighteen months had elapsed since becoming a member which step he certainly had no cause to regret. In concluding their remarks both were accorded a hearty applause.

Next in order came the always awaited address by the district deputy, Brother Hill, stated in great pleasure and privilege to be present with his staff and install for a second time the officers of Shokan Lodge, that the cooperation and encouragement given by Shokan Lodge was greatly appreciated and that it was with keen regret that he soon must turn over the vestments of authority to his successors as his year has been a most enjoyable one. He reminded of the coming session of the grand lodge which convenes in Poughkeepsie the third week in August, which is expected to prove one of the largest assemblages of Odd Fellows and Rebekahs in grand lodge history. He urged every lodge in Ulster district to send its representative and that all members possible, and take part in the gigantic parade. He also read a letter from the grand master containing recommendations in regard to the welfare of Shokan Lodge. Other portions of the deputy's remarks were likewise of keen interest. His address was most heartily approved by everyone present. The members of the staff in rotation, each responded with interesting remarks.

The Noble Grand now extended the privilege of the floor to others of the visitors present. At this time Past Deputy Trowbridge introduced Past Deputy Saxon of New York City who expressed his keen appreciation for the opportunity while in Ulster County of being enabled to visit Shokan Lodge.

Past Deputy Henry A. Lamoree of Catskill Mountain Lodge, who is held in fondest affection by every member of Shokan Lodge, and is always a most welcome visitor, responded in a humorous vein which brought an applause from everyone. It was in response to the toast, "Brother Lamoree was elected deputy." District Deputy J. H. Rogers, also a member of Catskill Mountain Lodge, likewise spoke entertainingly and expressed his great pleasure to be present. Others among the visitors who responded were brothers John Burgher, Ed. Vost and David Bush of Aretas Lodge, the latter a past district deputy and veteran member of the Kingston post office force, now retiring after 23 years of service. Among the home members who spoke were past District Deputies Gordon and Trowbridge, Past Noble Grands Henry Winchell, Elwyn Davis and others, all of whom were highly complimentary toward the noble work of Deputy Hill and his staff and voiced their approval of the new set of lodge officers. Brothers Trowbridge and Winchell, in their remarks, reminded of the record established by Brother Burgher of Aretas Lodge for attendance.

The speechmaking now being concluded the remainder of the session was speedily brought to a close as the odor of refreshments was noted permeating the atmosphere. Trays were passed as the brothers found comfortable seating accommodations about the room, mainly in groups to more readily make social contact. The refreshment menu, both abundant and appetizing, consisted of ham and cheese sandwiches, cake, coffee, ice cream and cigars, and food ready favor. It was quite inevitable that pinocchio and eucure should follow the refreshments with so eminent an array of card talent present, and all too soon came the midnight hour and the regretted breaking up of one of the most enjoyable sessions of the year at Shokan Lodge.

Disagree on Prayer

Throughout the Christian history there has been constant dispute about the proper wording of the Lord's Prayer and the meaning of various phrases. Even now there is no universal agreement as to the proper form of the supplication.

Railroaders Edge Out Neckwear Team In Last Inning, 4-3

The West Shore Railroaders after taking a few setbacks in the City League last night, won the Northern Neckwear 4 to 3 in the final inning. Although the Railroaders won it was not until the youngsters who comprise the Cravats gave them a bad scare.

Going into the last inning the railroaders were trailing by one run and things looked dark for them as "Pucker" Davis, Cravats' pitcher, appeared to be growing stronger as the game grew on. He had allowed but five hits up to this time, and victory was in sight for him, but he faltered, permitting two hits and a walk, which spelled defeat for him.

Young Johnny Murphy, pitching for the Railroaders, and Davis had a real pitchers' duel up to the winning rally, with Davis having an edge. Davis was nipped for seven hits while Murphy granted ten.

Though there was some long distance hitting by both teams neither team profited much by it as most of the hits went for naught. Feldmesser, diminutive second baseman of the Cravats, and Leski, Railroaders' shortstop, led the hitters with two triples and two doubles apiece.

Messinger and Feldmesser manufactured the first run for the Cravats as early as the first inning. Messinger singled to left field and Feldmesser was credited with a triple when Lewis lost his fly in right field. Messinger registered on the hit.

Davis' hardest inning with the exception of the last was the second. He was found for two triples and a double in this inning and was very fortunate to hold the Railroaders to one run. Morgan poled the double, but was caught napping at second. Lay and Leski hit the triples, Lay scoring.

Kreppel's free trip to first base, Messinger's single to right field and Feldmesser's double netted the Cravats another run in the third. The Railroaders knotted the score again in their half of the third. Hoffman reached first on an error, Knight was hit by a pitched ball and Morgan singled to score Hoffman.

The Cravats took the lead once again in the fifth inning. Turk's double, Kreppel's single and Messinger's fly to Lay accounted for one run.

Davis got himself into a jam in the last inning by walking Connelly. Spevack ran for Connelly and Leski advanced him to third with a double. Dullin, pinch-hitting for Murphy, bunted and Spevack carried in the tying run. Williams singled to right field and Leski crossed the platter with the winning marker.

One-Man Team

George Perry, marathon runner, is the sole representative of the South American republic Colombia in the coming Olympic games. The athlete is in training in Los Angeles and expects to make a good showing, as he has run the 26-mile 385-yard grid in 2 hours 35 minutes over the mountainous country of his native land, missing the Olympic record by two minutes.

SPORT SLANTS

By Alan J. Gould

(Associated Press Sports Editor.)

American tennis fans who read the papers, and especially those fans around New Orleans, Memphis, Cincinnati, Chicago and Milwaukee, are beginning to believe that at least once Bill Tilden spotted an infant phenom who will live up to all advance bluffs.

A couple of years ago Tilden was quoted as saying that Frankie Parker of Milwaukee was the most promising player for his years that he, Tilden, had ever seen. That was when Parker, a 14-year-old lad of barely 100 pounds, had yet to win the national boys' title that came to him last summer.

Tilden has carried the torch for other prodigies of the courts, and has personally sponsored several, but none save Junior Coen has really rung the bell in top flight tennis, and even Coen has not developed as sensationally as he started.

But the trail which Parker has been blazing through spring and early-summer tournaments has netted him a new hope. At New Orleans last winter he vanquished George Lott, and extended Wilmer Allison to two deuce sets before losing.

In the National clay court meet at Memphis, the Tri-State at Cincinnati and the Western at Chicago his play was the talk of all galleries. He became an objective of autograph-seekers almost overnight following his great five-set finale battle with Lott at Cincinnati, and his victory over the same player at Chicago four days later.

Galleries in France

Tennis devotees who watch the boy in action are enthralled by his workmanship and his unhurried, smooth stroking. As one galleryite in Chicago expressed it: "He hits every shot, no matter where or in what position, as though that particular shot were the one he had specialized in for years."

He's still not a big fellow by any means, but he's in rare good health and his 135-pound physique is well knit, which could not be said for the scrawny, 65-pound Frankie Parker who six years ago began lugging a cast-off battle axe racket into kid tournaments in Milwaukee.

Beasley The "Columbus"

Tilden, though, wasn't the real "discoverer" of Parker. Mercer Beasley, tennis coach of a Milwaukee club and at Tulane university, first detected Frankie's talent, interested in the boy, and thus changed the whole course of his life.

He was put in a country boarding school (his parents were not well off), given a set of body-building exercises and regulate diet, and a tennis tourney schedule was mapped for him. This included four successive starts in the National boys' meet at Culver, Ind., where he was a popular figure for three years before achieving the crown last summer.

Frankie's assortment of strokes is probably as complete and finely polished as any of the lesser internationalists, his temperament, on the court and off it, is ideal, and his stamina is all that could be asked.

If he has a weakness it is only that of lack of experience. And he's getting that, this summer.

Marty McMarus, Red Sox—Doubled with two out in the ninth to beat St. Louis.

Bill Hallahan, Cardinals—Heid the Boston Braves to five hits.

Charley Grimm, Cubs—Made the 2,000th hit of his major league career to help lick the Phillies.

Steve Swetonic and Larry French, Pirates—Pitched the leaders to a pair of victories over the Giants, 4 to 2 and 3 to 1.

Tagging Major League Bases

(By The Associated Press)

The present National League race might well be termed the "race" of the rookies.

A group of young men who scarcely were known a year ago are virtually stealing the show from the old, established headliners.

The Pittsburgh Pirates, leading the field by three and a half games today, could trace their success directly to the pitching of Steve Swetonic and Bill Swift, who between them had won 16 games, and to the fine play of their young keystone combination, Tony Piet and Floyd Vaughan.

The second place Chicago Cubs have benefited by the sensational hurling of Lonnie Warneke and the bang-up play of Bill Herman at second base. Huck Betts and Bobby Brown have by their consistently great pitching kept the Boston Braves at or close to the top ever since the race began.

Swetonic, who shares with Betts of the Braves the distinction of leading the National League's pitchers, scored his ninth victory yesterday by beating the Giants in the first half of a doubleheader, 4 to 2, on six hits. Larry French stopped the New Yorkers, 3 to 1, in the nightcap.

Warneke rang up his eleventh triumph, halting the Phillies 6 to 1, and putting the Cubs back in second place, one percentage point above the Braves, who lost to St. Louis, 4 to 2. Warneke left 12 Phils stranded on base. Bill Hallahan let the Braves down with five hits, the only runs off him being homers by Wally Berger and Art Shires.

Cincinnati and Brooklyn battled all afternoon without getting anywhere in particular. The Reds took the first game, 6 to 4, as Owen Carroll outpitched four adversaries, but the Dodgers came back to win the second, 2 to 2, behind Freddy Heimach. Chick Hafey, who has been out of the Cincinnati lineup with illness for many weeks, appeared as a pinch hitter in the last inning of the nightcap but failed to connect safely.

Only one game survived rain in the American League. In that, the Boston Red Sox came from behind a 4-0 disadvantage at the end of the fourth to beat out St. Louis, 5 to 4. Marty McMarus drove across the deciding run with a double after two were out in the ninth. That is something John Collins could never do while he was managing the club.

Owl's Peculiar Cry

The burrowing owl, common on the plains of both North and South America, makes its home in the abandoned burrow of a ground-squirrel or some other animal as a rule, though if no ready-made house is available it will dig a little cave-like hole of its own in which to deposit its eggs. One of the curious traits of this little owl is its cry, which more nearly resembles the chattering of a cuckoo than the hoot of an owl.

Moon's Light

The terms dark and light of the moon are popular expressions without scientific meaning. In some parts of the country the people say the light of the moon is during the time the moon is waxing, from new moon to full moon, and the dark of the moon is from full moon to the new moon. In other parts of the country the light of the moon is said to be when the moon is visible and the dark of the moon when it is not visible.

End of the Trail

The statue of an Indian with a spear under his arm, sitting on a horse, in an attitude of utter abandon, is intended to symbolize the passing of a great race—the Indian, once the unchallenged master of this continent, but who now, as the sculptor, James Earle Fraser, conceived it, stands hopeless and despairing at "the end of the trail." The statue is very literally at the end of the trail, too, in Golden Gate park, San Francisco.

Kingston: "Two Weeks". A man is being electrocuted. Witnesses and newspaper men, who are watching, are told that the prisoner will have two weeks of consciousness following the first electric shock. This talk, intense and startling from beginning to end, is a picture of the things that pass through the mind of the condemned man in those two short moments of consciousness. It is a terrible drama, the type of play that moves every moment of the time. Edward Robinson, as the doomed man, gives another memorable performance and proves himself to be an actor of distinction. Others in the cast are Guy Kibbee, Vivienne Osborne and Preston Foster, a new-comer, who gives an impressive performance. Much credit for this dramatic masterpiece must be attributed to the director, Mervyn LeRoy. Powerful entertainment.

Orpheum: "Devil's Lottery". The winners of a rich sweepstakes find themselves in a publisher's home, at his invitation. Crooks, men and women of questionable reputation, a prizefighter, and an idealistic American are part of the assembled group. What happens in this cosmopolitan group is interesting and enjoyable. Elmer Landi, Victor McLaglen, Beryl Mercer, Paul Cavanaugh and Barbara Weeks are in the cast. The "Sharkey-Schmelling" fight pictures are an added attraction.

Broadway: "Thunder Below". Tallulah Bankhead, whose motion picture offerings have been none too popular so far, does well in a story that at last gives her an opportunity to prove her capabilities. She makes the most of her chances, and emerges from this terrible tale of the tropics a finished actress with an unusually attractive screen personality. The play itself isn't so much. It's the story of a white woman in the tropics, married to one man and loving another. The ending is rather tragic, but the show manages to be fairly entertaining throughout. The supporting cast offers Paul Lukas, Ralph Forbes and Charles Bickford.

Tomorrow Kingston: Same.

Orpheum: "Sky Devils". The humorous side of the war in the air is the plot basis of this story. After a number of airplane pictures of a serious makeup, this one proves to be distinctive and enjoyable. There are numerous laughs in this fast moving picture, as well as some breath taking air scenes. Spencer Tracy and Adolphe Menjou head the cast.

Broadway: Same.

ALLIGERVILLE

Alligerville, July 7—Sunday school at Alligerville Reformed Church at ten o'clock. Church services at eleven.

Beginning with July 3, the Christmas gifts for this year will be awarded on the basis of attendance at Sunday school.

At the next convention of the Rondout Valley Sunday School Association, the banner will be awarded on the basis of regular Sunday school attendance each Sunday and the number of members present at the convention who are over twelve years of age.

The school has 35 members enrolled with an average attendance of 23. They will strive to make it 100 per cent each Sunday.

The daily vacation Bible school will begin at High Falls on Monday, July 11.

Mr. and Mrs. Kristeller of Dreamland Farm, as is their usual custom, welcomed the people of the surrounding country to their beautiful summer resort the evening of the Fourth.

Robert Groves of Kingston was the speaker of the evening. Music was furnished by the Dreamland orchestra. After a fine exhibition of fireworks, the spacious dining room was opened for dancing.

Trowbridge House was well patronized over the holiday week-end. Depression seemed far removed when one saw the cars parked and the guests arriving at this well known house.

Dr. and Mrs. DeWitt of New Paltz had Sunday dinner with their father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. DeWitt.

Mary R. Garrison, who teaches in Long Island City, is at her home. Virginia Smith, a student of New York University, is spending her vacation with her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Smith.

Mrs. Harry Maltz made a business trip to New York city last week. Mrs. Robert Hines is visiting friends in Kingston.

Wonderful African Falls

The chasm of Victoria falls, on the Zambesi river in northern Rhodesia, South Africa, is only about one-half as wide as that of Niagara, but more than twice the depth. The height of Victoria falls is 250 feet at the right bank and 343 feet in the center. The American fall of Niagara is 1400 feet broad and 165 feet high, while the Canadian or Horseshoe fall is 2600 feet broad and 155 feet high.

TALES OF THE CHIEFS

By Edith L. Watson

SPENCIALAWBA

The Indian boy, crouching in a corner, with a look of wild young heart that he might be terrible. The white soldiers killed Indians, that he knew, but they were quick to see everything, and he was unable to run away without their seeing him. It was wrong to show fear, but all the same, the boy was afraid—terribly afraid. His black eyes were the only part of him that moved, as he hid into a small crevice as possible, hardly daring to breathe.

General Logan, with his troops, was on an expedition against the Ohio tribes. The general was not a hard-hearted man, and when he spied the young Shawnee, his impulse of kindness took practical form. The boy was made a captive, but he was well treated, and when the general returned to his home in Kentucky, the lad accompanied him.

Here he was given treatment such as the young Indian had not dreamed possible. He was taken into the Logan family and given the general's name—an honor of itself. He went to school and received the education of a white boy. And when this was over, and the lad had grown into a youth, he was sent back to his people.

Although he was called by the Shawnee Spemicalawba, or "Lifted Horn," to the whites he was known as Capt. James Logan. His life in the good general's household had implanted in him an ardent friendship for the white race, and he did all that he could to prove his loyalty, even to death.

He opposed Tecumseh, his uncle, when that brilliant orator flamed through the country trying to kindle the spark of resentment into the fire of war. Unable to dissuade Tecumseh from his plans, Logan did the next best thing: he enlisted in the War of 1812, and served the American forces well as scout and spy.

It was during this service that Logan proved his loyalty with his life. During an engagement against greater numbers, his party had been forced to retreat. While the move was a legitimate one under the circumstances, and such as they themselves would have made in a similar case, some of the thoughtless white soldiers questioned Logan's good faith. Some thought that he should have stood against the enemy, if he had died in the attempt; others felt that he had joined the army with the purpose in mind to delay and complicate matters. Who could tell what was in the mind of an Indian? And Logan, for all his education and training, was an Indian still.

Logan was hurt by this slander. He knew it to be unwarranted, and he determined to accomplish some deed which would clear his name and establish his honesty for all time.

With two Indian companions, he went down the Maumee river, hoping to find an enemy. This hope soon became a reality, for Captain Elliot of the British army, with five Indians, appeared, and at once declared Logan and his men prisoners.

Here was the opportunity for which the chief had longed. Watching their chance, the three Indians attacked their captors, made a brave fight, and succeeded in killing Elliot and two of his men. Logan was not unharmed, however—he and one of his men were severely wounded.

Great was the surprise in General Winchester's camp, when the three Indians entered it, bringing with them the horses of their conquered enemies. Logan felt that he had vindicated his honor, and he was proud. His wounds, however, were deep and serious, and soon deprived him of his triumph. The agony was more than he could endure, and after suffering for two days, he died.

The Indian captain was buried with military honors, to the envy of the other Indians in the camp. General Winchester and Major Hardin eulogized him as a man of courage, intelligence, and sincerity. The general wrote to General (afterward President) Harrison that "more firmness and consummate bravery have seldom appeared on the military theater. . . . He was buried with all the honors due to his rank, and with sorrow as sincerely and generally displayed as ever I witnessed."

The Six Nations

The Five Nations of Iroquois Indians occupied the best lands of New York state, and many are still found there. In 1712 another tribe moved up from North Carolina, asked to join the Iroquois, and were given land along the Chenango river. They were named Tuscaroras, meaning "shirt-wearers," and became one of the Iroquois Six Nations. The original Iroquois were the Mohawks, the Oneidas, the Onondagas, the Catugas, and the Senecas.

"Newsboys" in Old Days

Apparently newsboys have been employed from an early period and were known in Great Britain in the eighteenth century. In Scotland paper carriers or caddies sold newspapers and also provided news gossip. At the close of the seventeenth century they were incorporated in Edinburgh into a society, but it eventually became a nuisance and was dissolved in 1710. The word "newsboy" appears in English literature as early as 1512.

Grumble Alone

"Why warn us against grumbling when psychologists equally warn us of the danger of constantly repressing emotion?" asks a pessimist. Grumble loudly, and long, if it relieves your feelings; but do it alone. Don't poison other minds by your pessimism.

JULY FOURTH CELEBRATION

HELD AT WEST SHOKAN

West Shokan, July 7—The residents of West Shokan and of other nearby communities celebrated the grand old fourth of July in real fashion at the Community Church on Monday evening.

When people awoke on Monday morning finding the rain pouring down their hopes were blasted. Occasionally the reports of firecrackers, and shotguns resounded through the little valley. Otherwise things were rather quiet. About noon time the mist began to break. The fog lifted, and soon millions of tiny sunbeams came peeping through the broken clouds. By five o'clock the sun was shining, the clouds had disappeared and a smiling blue sky formed the background for the lofty Catskill mountain peaks.

The variety supper was served promptly at six o'clock. It consisted of potato salad, baked beans, biscuits, bread, pickles, ice cream and delicious home made cake.

Among the prominent guests who were present were: Mr. and Mrs. Fred Toms of Woodstock, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Trowbridge, the Rev. and Mrs. Booth of Olive Bridge, the Rev. and Mrs. Sharp, Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Gordon and family of Broadhead, Mr. and Mrs. William Greene of Shokan, Miss Beate Koehling of Mt. Tremper, former Supervisor and Mrs. Lester B. Davis of Olive Bridge, New York city, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Bruckner of West Hurley, Donald Bishop of Hartwick College, Mrs. Allen, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Weidner and family, Mrs. Jane Ann Burger and several others.

After the supper had been served the guests went upstairs, where they spent an enjoyable evening listening to an impromptu program. The program was opened by the singing of "The Star Spangled Banner." Arthur Trowbridge acted as master of ceremonies, showing his ability with perfect ease. After the opening song the Rev. Mr. Sharp offered a prayer. Mr. Trowbridge then introduced the Rev. Mr. Booth, pastor of the Olive Bridge Church, who gave a fine patriotic address, touching upon the important events from the time of the landing of the Pilgrims to the inauguration of the first president, George Washington. Miss Ruthie Pleasants then favored the audience with a recitation appropriate to the occasion, entitled "Till for Tat." A group of girls then sang Keller's "American Hymn."

The next speaker on the program was Miss Beate Koehling of Mt.

Tremper, a graduate of Kingston high school. Her address was the comparison of the German and American school systems. Miss Koehling spoke very intelligently on this subject, for she was born and spent twelve years in Germany. She has taken the best advantage of the educational opportunities offered her here in New York state, for she graduated from Kingston high school in three years and won the prize for the girl having the highest average. Miss Ruthie Pleasants then sang a lovely solo entitled, "How Betsy Made the Flag." The next recitation, "One Flag in One Land," given by Helen Thompson was followed by a song, "There Are Many Flags in Many Lands." Miss Mariam C. Davis then recited a poem entitled, "So Was I." The Misses Helen and Louise Thompson then sang a duet, "God Of Our Fathers." The closing musical selection was "America." The Rev. Mr. Booth gave the benediction.

The people of this community wish to thank all those who helped by their support and assistance to make this fourth of July supper and celebration such an outstanding success. Everyone enjoyed himself to the utmost, and is looking forward to the coming annual church fair, which will be held during the early part of August.

SERVICES ANNOUNCED FOR RURAL CHURCHES

The following services will be held in the West Hurley, Glenford and Ashokan M. E. Churches:

Sunday, July 10, 10:30 a. m. (D. S. T.) West Hurley church, Children's Day program of Sunday school. 2:30 p. m., Glenford church, worship service; sermon, "The Greatest Enterprise in the World." 8:00 p. m., Ashokan church, stereopticon Life of Christ.

Extensive Alterations.

V. Burgevin Hyatt, local contractor, has just finished making extensive alterations on the upper floor of the Newberry Building on Wall street. This newly refurnished floor will be the home of the Van Dyke Studios, which is now open for business at that address.
